their friends, to be careful of the many pre-

OLD GREENBACK CASH

I am still obliged to accept of legal Tender Notes at Par (and have been since Dec. 31, 1862) for the rent of my Hardware Brick Store, corner of Morrison and Front streets. I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public, that leased the Building of me Feb. 17, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in vogue, and it was understood the terms were high. Since the date above stated, I have realized the depreciated currency regularly for the rent of the

CITY OF PARIS STORE!

Notwithstanding less than two-fifths of the rent agreed on Mayer was to pay. He had several times called at very advantageous rates, and would be now to comply with his contract, and pay in Gold, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I take this method to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantages of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see how much it costs to have such tenants in such costly buildings as the one referred to above.

Patrick Richford, of New York, a native of Westmouth, Ireland, died Sept. 9th, of diarrhœa. Dr. Hewatun states that all the deaths were owing to excess, dissipation or neglect of medicine.

A very large distillery at San Jose, Robert Anderson, Superintendent, was seized to-day, for violation of the Internal Revenue laws. The property seized is valued at from $50,000 to $60,000, and the amount of taxes the Government has been defrauded of is alleged to be larger than in any similar case on the Pacific coast.

FROM THE NORTH.

VICTORIA, Sept. 21.—The English ship Belmont, which sailed from Victoria for Toulon, France, Wednesday afternoon, came into collision the same night with an unknown vessel in the straits of Fuca, off Sooke harbor, and sustained serious damage. The stranger must have been cut down to the water's edge, as part of her deck load was seen floating by the Belmont after the vessels had separated. The Belmont struck the other just abaft the foremast, carrying away her own bowsprit and springing her foremast. The fog was very dense at the time, and the stranger was lost sight of almost immediately. The Belmont was towed into Beheeby bay, where it was found that she was not making water, and the captain came on to Victoria in a canoe for assistance. H. M.'s ship Scout was dispatched to the spot this morning. It is believed the strange vessel was the ship Nelson laden with spars and lumber for China, which also sailed from here on

What the Union Party Demand

We distinctly remember and few have forgotten that during the political campaign last spring the candidates of the Union party everywhere urged Union men to support the regular nominees There was some dissatisfaction here and elsewhere and for a time it looked as if our opponent would win by reason of the dissatisfaction in the Union ranks but Union men perceiving the danger suppressed their discontent subordinated their personal feelings to their desire to have their party gain a triumph, and worked vigorously until their efforts were crowned with success All Union men supported the party nominations What they now demand is that those who were elected to the Legislature by the use of party discipline shall follow the same rule which they so highly commended when they were themselves candidates for office To speak more plainly Union members are expected to support the nominee of the party for United States Senator Not only are they bound in honor to do it after having participated in the caucus, but their duty to their party—to those who favored them with their suffrages—demand it of them It is not supposed that every person is entirely pleased with the result of the caucus That might have been foreseen But it is expected that when a majority of the Union members of the Legislature deliberately express their preference for Senator, the minority will come to his support and help elect him As we supported the nominations of the Union party in the late canvass, so we now support the nominee for the Senate It was not more obligatory to do the first than it is to do the last. Union men were under no stronger obligations to vote for their candidates for the Legislature, than these same members now are to vote for the caucus nominee for Senator Gov Gibbs is entitled to the position He has won the title fairly and honorably This his competitor concedes It matters not whether Gov Gibbs was our first choice or not He is evidently the choice of the majority of the Union members of the Legislature, and, therefore, of a majority of the Union party His friends cannot be expected to recede at the dictation of a few who may desire some other man. No other Union man can be elected And if any member of the Legislature who owes his election to Union votes, refuses to vote for the caucus nominee for Senator, he may be sure that his conduct will be condemned by the united voice of the Union party of the State. A few men should not undertake to dictate to, or exalt themselves above their party We shall pursue the very course in relation to this matter which we indicated some weeks ago At that time we said that the man who should receive the caucus nomination, ought to have the united support of the Union members and the Union party Had Mr. Mitchell (or any one else) received a majority in the caucus, he should have had our support, and the appeal we now make for Gov Gibbs, should have been made for him Before the session began, the Union members said a Union Senator should be elected, let them see that it is done And now that a caucus has been held, in which all (with one exception) participated, the only honorable course is to elect the caucus nominee

REPENTANT CONSERVATISM —Since the election in Kentucky, the Louisville Journal and its "conservative" friends have been in the lowest depths of trouble. The discovery has been made that "conservatism" is a very inefficient weapon with which to fight determined rebels It has been ascertained that Radicalism, is, after all, the only thing that has power to save The Journal now admits that those Kentucky Radicals "who warned us a thousand times over against the repeal of the expatriation law when the bill to repeal it was before the legislature, were right We were in error, but we erred upon the side of charity" So it has been discovered that our "erring brethren" who left Kentucky to fight for the rebellion, and returned after their failure, are not the innocent lambs they were taken for. We have here the confession from a leading "conservative" that nothing but Radicalism and the treatment it proposes, can save the Unionists of the South from the domination and persecutions of the rebels The Journal, a strenuous advocate of Johnson's "policy," has had enough of the fruits of "conservatism" There is nothing like bitter experience to teach men the lessons which they need most to know.

The Copperheads—especially those of the Nesmith wing—are endeavoring to injure Mr. Mitchell by circulating a report that he is still allowing his name to be used as a candidate for the United States Senate, after the nomination has been fairly given to Gov Gibbs by the Union caucus Looking upon Mr Mitchell as a man of honor, we feel certain the report is a foul slander. Mr. Mitchell's friends were among the first to propose the caucus and agreed to abide the result. Governor Gibbs having received the nomination fairly and by a clear majority, no man who knows Mr Mitchell as we do, would believe him guilty of an act so dishonorable as to enter the contest again. This falsehood will not impair Mr Mitchell in the estimation of true Union men, they will set it down for a bit of Copperhead mendacity.

Among the resolutions adopted by Johnson's "Bread and Butter" Convention, was one congratulating the country on the abolition of slavery This resolution, however, came near never seeing the light After all the other resolutions had been read, and Raymond was about proceeding with his address, Cowan and Doolittle perceiving it would never do to omit this, resolution, instituted an inquiry about it and found it in the coat-tail pocket of one of the reconstructed on the Committee, who evidently did not care to have it given to the world as an expression of Southern feeling When it was at last read the only applause it received came from the galleries.

We are gratified to observe that there is a disposition among members of the Legislature to do something to protect Eastern Oregon from the depredations of the Indians Gov Woods' special communication on this subject a few days ago, was enthusiastically received in the House, and we hope to see it acted upon as soon as it can possibly be reached For a day or two the Governor has been here conferring with Gen Steele upon providing some means of relief for the settlers east of the mountains We have no definite information as to the result of their communications upon the subject

The case of Bradley & Hanlley Gold Hill agent of Wells Fargo & Co came up for decision before Judge Hix this afternoon Judge Hix in deciding the question said there were several points in the case to be considered. The first was whether any offence at all had been committed. It was a breach of duty on his part to draw drafts for his own private purposes Funds of Wells Fargo & Co in this city were placed at his disposal. It made no difference if he appropriated the money at a distance The principle was the same as though he had stood on one side of Wells Fargo & Co s counter and ordered an employee to put out money to a confederate. The agents in this city were used as innocent instruments by Bradley for the appropriation of their own funds. The question of jurisdiction involved the question of the constitutionality of our statutes which the court did not think it proper to pass upon It would therefore hold in accordance with our statutes that the court had jurisdiction in the case and ordered that defendant be held to answer before the county court A lengthy argument ensued regarding the amount of bail which should be required The defense insisted that $5,000 or $10 000 was sufficient under the circumstances They argued that defendant had manifested no desire to avoid the issue that his embezzlement was made known in June last, since which time he had been in Nevada and that he had made no attempt to leave the country or avoid the consequences of his acts. The prosecution merely acknowledged such to be facts but contended that Bradley relied upon the forbearance of Wells, Fargo & Co, knowing that they had never prosecuted other agents and employees who had similarly offended The aspect of affairs have changed Defendant now finds that company intends to prosecute him and seeing no further hope of leniency from them will probably attempt to escape. He has rich and powerful friends and relations who would willingly pay a small amount to screen him from punishment They therefore suggested that his bail be fixed at $20,000 The defense argued that the law only required such bail to be given as would secure the attendance of defendant on the day of trial that they believed that jurisdiction of this case was in dispute, and that no offense could be made out under our statutes Defendant had every confidence in his being ultimately acquitted and would not set the issue fairly and not avoid penalties if found guilty The matter was taken under consideration for a few days.

He had with others been rejected from the bar of the House by the Sergeant at Arms by order of the Speaker It was an indignity to the Senate which ought to be resented

There was a long discussion upon both amendment and the main question which Messrs Palmer Dale Jeffries Cartwright Bold Bailey Cranston and others participated in

Mr Dale's motion to amend was rejected

Mr Palmer was called to the chair and Mr CORNELIUS moved to amend the resolution by striking out the word and making it read relative to amending the rule by inserting, after the word House the words the Senate or so that the Senate as well as members might invite persons within the bar This time demurit leaves the fundamental principle, where as originally, Mr Cornelius submitted whether such rules and Senate could have any more within the bar with or without any motion of the chair

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN

THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN is published this morning. It contains the latest telegraphic news from the Eastern and California—a selection of the best articles appearing in THE DAILY OREGONIAN—full and reliable statements of Mines, and the most copious commercial information published by any paper in the State.

The average amount of reading matter in the WEEKLY OREGONIAN is double that published by any other journal in Oregon and in the particular of Commercial statistics and the Markets we aim to make it the most reliable paper especially in matters pertaining to Oregon it is unsurpassed.

☞ Single copies 12½ cents, or $3 00 per year. Any part of the United States or British Colonies.

CANNED FRUITS Etc.—The present is the season for preparing and canning for use through the balance of the year fruits, tomatoes etc and almost every housekeeper in the city has been or is engaged to some extent in this line of business. The market is well supplied with every kind of fruit for this purpose. There are many plans of preserving but the best is that of canning. The fruit is packed tight in the can—water is put in to within a quarter of an inch of the top, sugar and spice enough are added to give a pleasant taste, and then the top is soldered on. When this is done and not till then the can is put into hot steam, or into a stove heavily hot enough to cook the fruit, and when cooked a hole is punched with an awl in the lid, and the air in the can is expelled with a spout. The next instant a drop of solder covers the hole the can is taken from the heat, and the fruit can be kept for any length of time. By this process the fruits can be preserved with all their natural flavor and color—it seems the more common processes of preserving, great quantities of sugar are used and the flavor of the fresh fruit is smothered. Every farmer with a large orchard should know how to preserve its produce. He can send this canned fruit further than the fresh article, sell it at better prices and command better prices. In addition to the work done in this line for home consumption at Sacramento there is a firm which started in the business four years ago, at that time turning out 10 cases. It began in full blast and will supply the market this year with at least 24 000 cans. This number would have been largely increased had not the scarcity of tin rendered it impracticable to prepare a larger number of cans. At this establishment ingenious machinery invented by the proprietor is used for cutting out the tops, bottoms and caps of the cans. By one machine 6000 caps can be cut out in an hour by an experienced hand. By additional contrivances the box and caps are soldered on the inside of the can, and a skillful hand can make 300 cans in a day. In preparing the peaches pears and plums two or three white men and a dozen Chinamen and boys are constantly employed at the present time. The season for canning fruits is very short, but the supply of it most seasonable sentiment least two months longer.

IMPORTATION OF RAGS.—A large shipment of rags from Japan on account of the California paper mill, is noticed in the San Francisco daily of late date. The demand for rags by our mills considerably in excess of the supply in that State. People should save their rags in Oregon not only for the profits to accrue from the sale of them to the Oregon City Mill but from a sense of duty to keep the supply as near the demand as possible. During the year commencing with 1846 and ending with 1856 the amount of rags imported into the United States was 209,483,715 lbs, or an annual average of 20 948,371 of which last short three-fourths, or an annual average of 14 211,815 lbs were from Italy. The Secretary Consul at Liverpool has written a letter informing the State Department at Washington, that some rags now in process of exportation to this country are likely to be infected with cholera, and that it would be well to have the cargoes carefully examined and disinfected before they are allowed to land. The Oregon City Paper Manufacturing Company are now paying from four to five and a half cents per pound for clean rags, cordage, etc., delivered at the mill.

A TREAT.—It is a sight to make a gourmand a gourmet to witness the various delicacies with which Ira Fish furnishes us. Trout, fresh from the cold streams of the mountains, their shining sides glistening as though they had just been taken from their native element; quails in plump larder with ducks both dead and alive—all were caught in traps in a pea field adjacent to Scoggins and then sent to market—and last, but not least, was a fine dressed elk, very fat and large bones parties there have good times. Those who are capable of business and require relaxation would do well to visit our more of these hunting grounds where our [illegible] may distinguish themselves.

RUNAWAY.—Yesterday morning a team of horses owned by Mr N Owen ran away on Alder street and [illegible] ran routine. The team has been used hauling dirt from the cut on that street, between Seventh and Sixth, and the course taken by them when darting off, let them up to the face of the perpendicular bank, about twenty feet high, where they collided and one horse was so badly injured that it will be necessary to kill it. A stampede in the way described the wagon badly. It has been customary with Mr Owen to drive his team in front of his residence for the purpose of raising them, and while thus standing they took freight when away.

ARGUS ROAD.—Our fellow townsman Mr C P Ferry, met with a severe and painful accident as he was driving upon the Macadamized road on Thursday evening—Mr Ferry being thrown from the buggy spraining his ankle badly. He saved himself from further injury by adroitly himself from the wheels into a deep ditch. Mrs Ferry, in endeavoring to recover the reins, was pitched from the buggy into the road, but fortunately escaped comparatively uninjured. The horse was caught at the Union House with the buggy still attached to him, and [illegible] ared.

STEAMER VICTORIA.—The steamer Fidelity, Capt. Erskine, arrived last evening from Victoria, which port she sailed from on the 19th, at 9 A. M. She was detained off Columbia river two days in consequence of thick fog. She brings the following passengers: Mr Haberman and wife, Mr Alexakey, Miss Susan McGow, Mr Isaac M Fisher, Mrs Lyons, M A Virdin, J Brown, J Cafferty Wm Pierce, A Boing, J Ellis, T Rodgers, Geo King, John Barnes, J Henderson, P Hingston, Wm Hing, A Tyrrell, J Schutt, A McCatchy F Ciconia, P Mullin J [illegible] Wm Phillips, John Brown, Eph Lewis, and 3 [illegible].

STEAMER.—The Fidelity, last evening, brought a round cargo, consisting of iron, ales, liquors etc, to consignees, as follows: XXX 204 pkgs iron, (L); 73 bdls iron 70 cases liquor 2 buckets wine, (no mark) 2 pieces chain (B) 3 cases ale, (J W McClellan) 1 pkg castings, (A P) 48 pkgs nails, (P M) 46 pkgs nails, (no mark) 668 pkgs iron, 4 cases, (O W) 2 bags charcoal (G W Cool); 1 case nails, (P W & Co) 1 case nails 40 sks coal, (no mark).

THE CIRCUS.—The performances of the Cosmopolitan Circus Company closed in this city last evening by giving a benefit to the Lee children. Our worthy friend E B Kelly, of Oregon City, acted as last evening and proceeds to the Dalles this morning, for the purpose of advertising the show by an exhibition at that place. He will next lead the company to Victoria, after which they will return to Oregon and probably close the season at Salem, during the Fair. They perform to-night at Vancouver.

ADVERTISED STOCK.—Mr John O Neil, No 10 Washington street, this morning invites public attention to his [illegible] tastefully attractive stock of cloths, etc., which he has just received in his store, to "suit the demands of his patrons." Mr O'Neil's long experience in business in this city has given him a very enviable reputation for "fair dealing," without the application of "disorder" to his acts as always seasonable, and in general form, no matter how [illegible] the patron may be. See advertisement.

LOST WATCH.—The boatmen on the Upper Willamette complain of the water on Multnomah Bar, and in other places on the river. They say the water is very thin in spots. In consequence, we see numbers of teams from various parts of the Valley, loaded for our flour lands from the Valley trade is brisk.

RESCUE.—We learn that the steamer Rescue is now at the "Bone Yard," having been towed up by the steamer Ocello on last Thursday evening. The Company will immediately repair her. They will enable her to take her old place in the trade on Tuesday next.

FUGITIVES WANTED.—If any person can give information concerning the whereabouts of James Duffy they will confer a great favor by sending it to his father Andrew Duffy, Sandwich, Massachusetts.

CHANGE OF LOCALITY.—The Photographic business of Mr. Pope has been removed to rooms on the south west corner of First and Morrison streets, over Shanahan & Durene. See advertisement.

THE CHATTEL SALE.—The sale of the goods attached recently, in this city will take place on Monday October 1st by order of Sheriff Stitzel. Oscar Kilbourn [illegible].

BAPTIST MEETING HOUSE.—Rev Stephen's Chapel will be open on Sunday morning at the usual hour for worship. Trinity Church will be closed on Sunday morning but open in the evening at the usual hour.

ANNUAL BALL.—The evening of the first day of October has been set apart for the annual ball of the Turn Verein Society, to take place at their hall on First street.

AGENCY SALE.—Mr A B Richardson will to-day dispose of a lot of farming implements etc in addition to a variety of articles in the grocery line.

BAND BALL.—The meeting of the "Pioneers" last night was well attended and the playing good.

ARRIVED.—The steamer Sierra Nevada arrived at San Francisco yesterday at 4 o clock P M.

SAN HAN.—The name of the Chinese Doctor on Washington street is See Yan.

[illegible]—A spasmodic affection of the Bronchial Tubes which are coexist with a dry tenacious phlegm. Brown's [illegible] Troches will in some cases give immediate relief. For Coughs Colds and Throat Diseases, the Troches have proved their efficacy.

"An old lady friend having tried many remedies for her [illegible], with no benefit, found great relief from the Troches."—Rev D Lewis Frankfort Ill.

THE INDICATIONS are that we are to have a fine season and clear weather for a few weeks and all should bear in mind that BUCHTEL is now taking those irresistible SUN PEARLS that everybody admires so much and also the finest BEAUTIFUL HOYOGRAPHE. The Delegates

Among the most prominent" delegates to Johnson's Convention were the following patriots

New Hampshire—Edward Burke, a writer for The Standard who advocated the introduction of slavery into that State and was sued to be one of the editors of that paper when it was destroyed by Union soldiers in August 1861

Rhode Island—Alfred Anthony, publisher of The Collector which denounced Governor John son as an unmitigated disgrace to the country, and not as good as some negroes

New Jersey—Benjamin J Williamson who is said to have openly applauded the assassins of President Lincoln

Maryland—Richard Evanson, who was an officer in the Home Guards that marched to Fort McHenry to capture it, during the Baltimore riots in 1861

South Carolina—The entire delegation from this State are rank rebels

Alabama—Lewis E Parsons, was Provisional Governor and is now a claimant for a seat in the United States Senate was a member of the Alabama Legislature of 1859 that declared the election of a Black Republican President a good cause for dissolving the Union, Gen E Houston a claimant for a seat in the United States Senate to which he was elected on the express pledge that he could not and would not take the test oath

Louisiana—Richard Taylor, Jeff Davis's brother in-law and Major-General in the rebel army who threatened to take no prisoners if colored troops fought on the Union side, and Wm H King of The Times, who is charged with having stabbed in the back and killed a man named Magill, during a political squabble in New Orleans

Arkansas—John R Ridge, editor of The Great Valley National, which has hoisted the name of Gen Lee as its candidate for President.

Ohio—C L Vallandigham, whose politics are too well known for the good of his country

Kansas—Jesse Kendery who was Commissioner under the Fugitive Slave law at Cincinnati, and who decided to send back a slave woman and child into Slavery, but who was fooled by the woman killing the child and then committing suicide

Colorado—The only delegate for this State of whom we have intelligence is a Mr Hiram Lightner, and he will not be present at the Convention because of his being arrested as a thief He was preparing to leave Denver but going into the Adams Express office, he picked up a bar of gold, worth $3,000 and put it in his pocket. It being missed, Lightner accused a negro boy and suggested that he be hanged The Sheriff, however, concluded to search Lightner, and he found the stolen property on him It is a pity the Convention will have to do without the company of this delegate

TROUBLE IN THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—Several attacks upon the Associated Press which have recently appeared in the Herald have led many people to believe that the dissolution of that extensive institution was nigh at hand. But nothing is further from the fact, although it is believed that the Herald will try to break it down, unless it can succeed in driving out some of its present members, who have become obnoxious to its proprietor The Association consists of seven newspapers only, namely the Journal of Commerce, Herald, Sun, Times, Tribune, Express and World, (formerly the Courier and Enquirer.) The papers obnoxious to the Herald are the Journal of Commerce, Express and World, whose proprietors have always opposed the enormous expenses which the Herald seems ever anxious to drive the Association into for the procuration of news. By one of the rules of association, it is provided that all special dispatches of news coming to any one of the papers shall be sent to headquarters, and be there manifolded for all the members, the tolls, of course, being refunded to the rightful party. The Herald, which always has a larger number of these "specials" than any one or even two of the others, has never liked this arrangement. It had rather by half keep its own special news for its own special use, and pay the tolls out of its own pocket. But it was the rule of the Association, and therefore to it it was objected to and must be with the consent of the Atlantic Cable came the opportunity to the Herald for a sweet revenge. Its proprietor accordingly announced to the Association that it had ordered a special over the Cable, daily, of 200 words, at an expense of $1,000 in gold, and, sure enough, in a day or two such a dispatch did come, and was duly tendered, under the rule, to the Association It was manifold, and sent with the other news to all the papers, and read by them without suspicion that it was not a portion of the regular Association despatch. But when their weekly bill came in, wasn't it a stunner, as peculiarly to the weaker brethren. The Times, however, and the Tribune, paid up manfully, without grumbling, but the Journal of Commerce, World, Express and Sun positively refused to pay one cent of their respective apportionments. Hence the attacks of the Herald upon the Association, which are in reality meant only to hit the defaulting members. The Herald will continue its efforts to drive out the obnoxious members, both by increasing the expenses of the Association, where it can, and by personal abuse in its columns. But its efforts may only result in its own expulsion —New York Letter.

STONE CLOTH —A correspondent of an Australian paper, the Orange Guardian, writes as follows

Some twenty two years ago I recognized the asbestos or amianthus rock, in this district, and since then I have from time to time exposed portions of the stone to atmospheric influence and the result has always been a perfect change of the stone into asbestos, or into a substance closely resembling the finest staple wool, only something stronger, and, if possible, whiter in appearance I have sometimes obtained it six inches in length, have combed it out, and found it as soft and pliant as any silk. This substance, as no doubt you are aware, is incombustible by fire The stone may be brought into the state of asbestos in a very short time. I have been employed making a well of late, and some days I got as much of this mineral as would make a suit of clothes. I can show the stone here in all its stages, from stone itself to the asbestos state Should asbestos come into general use, it will in some measure, no doubt, from its incombustible nature supersede the evils of crinoline. Besides this great advantage, it will, also, set aside the exorbitant expense and use of soap and water, for all a lady will have to do when she unrobes her self will be to pitch her articles of apparel into a glowing fire, and when they have become as white as a snowflake she may resume them at her pleasure Perhaps you may deem some parts of the foregoing rather extravagant, but nevertheless I really believe that, by proper appliances, the asbestos anthus may yet become a source of revenue, and I therefore recommend the thing to your attention."

WHAT THE ENGLISH THINK OF OUR MONITORS.—The Engineer, a scientific paper of very high authority, utters an emphatic opinion in favor of the Monitor Miantonomah "Wherever she has cast anchor she has been regarded with almost unparalleled curiosity, and an interest not devoid of awe We quitted her side with the unavoidable impression that she is the very incarnation of full power —an impression resembling, we fancy, that with which ancient marines heard the tale of the Kraken, a tale of a monstrous fish floating past at the surface of the water, covering acres with its flat body, intangible, mysterious, and setting the power of the slayer at defiance After all, a comparison between the Miantonomah and the Kraken is not very far fetched, and we feel certain that in powers of destruction she would far exceed anything which even the Kraken, according to Norse legends, was capable of accomplishing. Any doubts to which we may have continued to cling, as regards the good qualities of the Monitor system, disappeared before we left the Miantonomah We confess, with humiliation, that it is impossible to visit her without carrying away the conviction that should it ever be our hard fate to try conclusions at sea with our American cousins, the fifty six Monitors which they now possess would probably produce on our naval power very much the same effect as that produced on Austria by the Prussian needle gun"

A Boston paper says Mr Ashman did not attend the Philadelphia Convention He is a chasing the wild deer, and following the roe" up in the Adirondack country, preferring that kind of hunting to the man hunting known as politics, unlike Nimrod Those gentlemanly old whigs— Gilliard, Ashman, Winthrop, and others—are at present shy of the new party, and leave the dirty work of laying its foundation to the Weeds and Raymonds, and other old whigs who are plebeianly disposed as something more in their line than in that of gentlemen

"I have been preaching to day to a congregation of stupid asses," said a young preacher to his aged elder "Yes," was the rejoinder, I remember you began your sermon with "Beloved brethren"

"Daughter," said a fond mother whom the oil speculation had made aristocratic, has Mr Brown proposed yet?" "Yes, Ma exclaimed the daughter, he proposed that we go down this evening and get some raw oysters"

HAIL! to small sweet courtesies of life for smooth do yo make the road of it like grace and beauty which begat inclinations to love at first sight; it is yet who open the door and let the stranger in —Sterne.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND FRIDAY 2 P M
Sept 21st 1866

We have nothing of especial importance to chronicle for the period passing in review The steamer Idaho sailed for the Montana, of the Pacific Mail Steamship Line and San Francisco was in the harbor Hill Hall Maine This Idaho is almost 1000 tons measurement If Oregon still orders the world of C M Latten & Co and our largest power The Hall is now Wm Gibb & Co Hall and Hall is now and will sail for San Francisco for Liverpool and Queenstown

Rates of freight have ruled firm Australian Lumber crops are expected of the highest the Cal mkt Jas Ward & Co's Shipping Circular quotes the markets at Sydney very firm and likely to remain so for months the arrivals up recently having no effect on prices California flour was quoted at £12@£12 10s per ton Wheat 6s@6s 3d @ 6s 6d Oats 4s 9d@5s @ 5s 10d Freights from San Francisco to Sydney were quoted at 42s, and from Newcastle 22s 6d Ten vessels were up to load coal for San Francisco

Valparaiso dates are to August 1st The markets were quiet Flour was quoted at $2 35@$2 37½ @ 100 lbs for Southern and Santiago Wheat, $2 17½ for Tuscan and $2 50 in store Barley $1 85 @ Bar copper $31 50, and Nitrate $1 05 @ 1 07½ gold Bar silver fine, $10 62½ Mexican dollars 7 per cent. premium exchange on London, 110@112½ for 60@90 day bankers bills

We have New York dates to August 20th which report the leading characteristics of financial and commercial affairs as being at that date an unwonted plethora of money and a halting trade There has been a steady accumulation of capital, which banks are anxious to place temporarily at the low rates of 4 @ 6 cent. with exceptions at 3 @ 7 cent. on undoubted collaterals With regard to the sluggish movements of trade, the Bulletin a correspondent says

By mail we are in receipt of San Francisco papers to the 12th At the regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce on the 12th several important subjects were presented The first was in regard to the appointment of an Immigration Agent at New York The advantages to be derived from such an agency are very apparent to all people on this coast. The subject is likely to be brought before the Oregon Legislature at the present session, and we hope the proposition will meet with favorable consideration

Mr Rodney Gibbons made a report in reference to the communication of Dr Macgowan in respect to the best means of effecting an improvement in our commercial relations with China. The report recommended that the matter be presented to the Department of State and to the California delegation, and further, that Dr Macgowan be invited to deliver a public lecture in San Francisco upon the general subject under consideration This was adopted R D Swain called attention to the condition in which by an Act of Congress the China Mail Steamship line had been placed That Act released the Company from that part of their contract which obligated them to touch at Honolulu, provided they would run a line of small steamers between San Francisco and Honolulu, and make 13 trips of 12 trips annually with the large steamers to China, the Hawaiian line to receive a subsidy of $50 000 per annum The condition of making 13 trips to China would involve the putting on of another steamer, and the extra trip would be of no material advantage Mr Swain thought therefore that Congress should be memorialized to release the Company from performing the thirteenth trip, inasmuch as they were willing to run a line of small steamers to the Islands. The matter was referred to the Committee heretofore having it in charge

At the conclusion of the regular business of the Board, Mr R G Sneath, by consent, addressed the Chamber on the anomalous condition of the commerce of California, in regard to which the Bulletin says

The address contains many good suggestions, which, if adopted and practically carried out, will lead to a great improvement in the manner of doing business The commerce of this city Mr Sneath held has greatly declined and during the past ten or twelve years, many abuses have been allowed to creep in, which unless soon corrected, will not only have all the force that long continued custom gives, but will eventually prove the ruin of all It was calculated at the East that 75 @ cent of the merchants were unsuccessful in business The ratio here is 100 @ cent, and all because there is no legitimacy in the way trade is conducted. At the East, everything was systematized. There were regular seasons and channels of business Merchants knew the time and duration of their dull seasons, and could prepare for them and take advantage of them in a little relaxation Here, every merchant is so jealous of every other merchant that he does not dare leave his business, even for a day Each is trying to get an advantage over the other, not realizing that there is room here for all, and that the best way to secure their individual prosperity, is to combine in all legitimate efforts to promote the prosperity of the whole All of the curses is a direct blow to the growth and prosperity of the State Our prosperity as individuals depends, to a great extent, on the prosperity of the State The system of building up one's self on the ruin of an other is not only illegitimate but certain to result in defeating the very object sought to be gained Mr Sneath said it was time that these evils were corrected, and that it was in the power of the merchants, if there was concert of action, to correct them within thirty days. As a jobber, he would say that all they wished was protection The jobbers are willing the importers should realize a fair profit on their goods, but think they should not sell to the customers of the jobbers on the same conditions as they do to the jobbers themselves, nor, after supplying all the legitimate wants of the trade, depress the market by throwing their goods into the auction houses We are comparatively isolated here, the market is limited, and importers should understand this and govern their importations accordingly The practice of concealing the character and quantity of any given article of merchandise on the way to this port, was justly animadverted upon The arbitrary practice of disallowing tare upon certain articles, and only so much upon others, was deprecated as leading to short weight and measure, so annoying and ruinous to legitimate trade. Selling goods according to the brand and not according to the quality, was equally objectionable To remedy these abuses, associations should be formed. The jobbers have established a Board of Trade. It was for the mutual protection Let the importers, brokers and commission merchants do likewise, and the commerce and trade of this city and State would soon find their normal condition, which would be followed by a regular and healthful prosperity Such a combination of interests would also pave the way to the more effectual and rapid development of the resources of the State and coast, by encouraging immigration and establishing new branches of industry Mr Sneath's address occupied about 40 minutes, and was listened to with interest by a large representation from the Chamber of Commerce
